- D. If matters are not resolved through our Complaints Procedure to your satisfaction, you may at the end of that procedure or after a period of eight weeks from the date of making the complaint to us make a complaint direct to the Legal Ombudsman ('LeO' whose contact details are set out below). As well as individuals, some, but not necessarily all, Trustees, Personal Representatives, Beneficiaries of an Estate, Charities and "Microenterprises" can complain to the LeO. Please refer to their website for more details about this. The LeO can investigate claims up to six years from the date of the problem happening or three years from when the complainant should reasonably have known there was cause for complaint. There are further detailed provisions relating to certain other time limits – please refer to the LeO website for the current guidance about these.

8. Insurance, Mediation Work, Financial Services & Client Monies

The Law Society is a designated professional body for the purposes of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, but responsibility for regulation and complaints handling has been separated from the Law Society's representative functions. The SRA is the independent regulatory body of the Law Society.

We are not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority. However, we are included on the register maintained by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) so that we can carry on insurance mediation activity, which is broadly the advising on, selling and administration of insurance contracts. This part of our business, including arrangements for complaints or redress if something goes wrong, is regulated by the SRA. The register can be accessed via the FCA website at www.fca.org.uk/register.

Sometimes conveyancing/family/probate/company work involves investments. We are not authorised by the FCA and so may refer you to someone, who is authorised to provide any necessary advice. However, we can provide certain limited services in relation to investments, provided they are closely linked with the legal services that we are providing to you, as we are regulated by the SRA.

This firm banks with Lloyds Bank Plc. In the unlikely event of that Bank failing for any reason, it is unlikely that this firm will be held liable for losses resulting from the Bank's failure, because reasonable care has been taken in the selection of that Bank. You should also be aware that the £75,000 Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) limit applies to each individual Client and so if you hold other personal monies in this Bank the limit remains at £75,000 in total.

Please note that some deposit taking institutions have several brand names under which they trade. You should therefore check with your Bank, the FSA or a financial adviser for more information. You will be deemed to have agreed for us to disclose to the FSCS your financial details in the event of a failure of this Bank.

You will only be entitled to interest on monies held by us if the interest received exceeds £50.00.

9. Equality and Diversity Policy

We are committed to promoting equality and diversity in all our dealings with Clients, third parties and employees and we have a written Policy. A copy of it is available on request.

10. Proof of Identity and Confidentiality

A. Proof of identity :-

In order to comply with the law on money laundering, we need to obtain evidence of your identity as soon as practicable. If you have not already done so, we should be grateful if you would provide us with documents to verify your identity and address, as set out in our Explanatory Note about identification

B. Confidentiality :-

Solicitors are under a professional and legal obligation to keep the affairs of their Clients confidential.

This obligation however is subject to a statutory exception; legislation on such matters as tax and benefit fraud and evasion, money laundering and terrorist financing places. Solicitors are under a legal duty in certain circumstances to disclose information to the National Crime Agency (NCA). Where a Solicitor knows or has reason to suspect that a transaction or matters on behalf of Clients involves money laundering or terrorist financing or involves property which is or has been acquired by the proceeds of crime the Solicitor may be required by law to make a disclosure of money laundering to NCA. If that happens we are not able to inform you that a disclosure has been made or of the reason for it because the law prevents us from "tipping off", which is itself a criminal offence. This may involve not necessarily our Client or the property of a Client, but for example property including real property, which a Client is attempting to lease or purchase from another party, when we as Solicitors acquire knowledge or suspicion as to how that property was obtained.

- C. Please note that as a result of the Government's Money Laundering policy and mortgagees' requirements, we may be required to investigate and approve the sources of all funds.
- D. Please note that files may be selected and audited by our professional regulator or relevant Quality Standards bodies or our accountants and if you or your matter has been referred to us under a Referral Agreement by the Referrer. Accordingly the right for your file to be externally audited is reserved
